

Health, Shrinking city, and Design

© 2024. 10. 8. (Tue), 16: 00~17:15

© Bldg.110 Rm. N101

Speaker

Hyun-Young Jin
Assistant professor from University of Ulsan

Abstract

- There is a need to explore mental health alongside physical activity within the built environment.
- Urban shrinkage is expected to lead to varying health outcomes depending on city conditions.
- Design strategies are required across spatial and temporal scales to tackle urban issues such as health and shrinking cities.

The seminar will be in Korean.